DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The incorporation of essential material in the specification by reference to an unpublished U.S. application, foreign application or patent, or to a publication is improper. Applicant is required to amend the disclosure to include the material incorporated by reference, if the material is relied upon to overcome any objection, rejection, or other requirement imposed by the Office. The amendment must be accompanied by a statement executed by the applicant, or a practitioner representing the applicant, stating that the material being inserted is the material previously incorporated by reference and that the amendment contains no new matter. 37 CFR 1.57(f).

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: page 2, line 22, "is takes" is awkward. Appropriate correction is required.

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: throughout the specification applicant makes reference to drawings in a foreign application; such drawings must accompany this application. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claim 1 calls for the drive shaft to effect eccentric oscillation; however, the specification does not enable this feature.

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claims 8-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 8, 9 and 12, "the fluid bearing" lacks clear antecedent basis.

Claim 11, "in when free running" is awkward.

Art Unit: 3673

Claims 14-16, it appears that "the limited rotational speed of the cutting disc" needs to be related back to "when free running".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Snyder (US 5125719).

Snyder discloses an oscillating disc cutter comprising a radial bearing (50,52), first axial bearing (80).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 2-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Snyder in view of Wipo document (WO 00/46486).

Snyder discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Snyder lacks a second fluid bearing. Wipo '486 teaches a second fluid bearing (see Fig. 7). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Snyder to include the second bearing as taught by Wipo document '486 in order bear thrust loadings.

12. Claims 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Snyder in view of Chandrasekaran et al. (US 5462364).

Snyder discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Snyder is silent about controlling rotational speed due to drag force. Chandrasekaran et al. teaches to control rotational speed due to drag force (see abstract). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Snyder to control the rotational speed due to drag force as taught by Chandrasekaran et al. in order to prevent overheating of the cutter due to rapid rotation when not in the actual cutting engaging mode.
